Funding for Green Initiatives

The Marlowe & Company team is working with communities to secure federal funding for vital “green” projects and initiatives. Whether our clients seek funding to expand public transportation, make public facilities more energy efficient, create green space, or utilize alternative sources of energy, we have been successful in meeting their needs. As a firm that represents only local governments and not-for-profit organizations, we understand the pressures communities are under to make important investments in green infrastructure. Working with your congressional delegation and through the federal agencies, our staff can help you secure the funding you need to implement your projects today.
